

*The A.W.A. Radiola Forty-five
Console Model*

A four-valve screen-grid, all-electric receiver, housed in an artistically designed veneered cabinet. It gives Interstate reception and is operated by a single dial. The cabinet incorporates the latest developments in scientific acoustics, with built-in moving coil speaker.

Table Model*

Using a similar chassis to the Console Model, this Radiola provides for the use of either a magnetic or a moving coil speaker. In common with the Console Forty-five, phonograph pick-up connections are incorporated for the reproduction of phonograph records.
